INTRODUCTION

- I did my internship from Internshala during the time period of two months from may to July on Web Development

- This training includes assignments ,tests and project at the end .

- Over the course of Internship ,I have had the privilege of delving into the intricacies of web development ,gaining hands-on experience in various programming languages ,frameworks and tools

- At last I developed the project using the knowledge gained from the modules.

- I developed a PG-Life Website which includes the process from registration to login , lists of the PG's from different cities along with the reviews and feedbacks of the users.
