INTRODUCTION

Clinical education program for law students have been available for many years in some Indian Law Schools. The objective of such programs is to provide an understanding of the human, social, and policy contexts of law and legal practices.

Internship fulfil an important component of both academic and practical education in law. The integration of professional experience into the learning process is highly effective in developing your understanding of the law in action, as you are able to observe and perceive the relevance and application of theory to practice.

Consequently, the program is not simply 'work experience' but a significant educational experience.

In a workspace setting you will be exposed to the reality of the practice of law in all its dimensions - the integration of different areas of law, policy issues; the application and development of skills to analysis and resolution of client concerns; ethical responses to situation which arises unexpectedly and spontaneously; and of professional responsibility including responsibility to clients and case management and the operation of the government and court system in the legal process.

Since the inception of B.A LL.B. program at the Faculty of Guru Ghasidas Central University, a practical experience component i.e. internship has been part of the compulsory subject and thus of the degree.

Introduction

Internship objective:

The basic and main motive of this internship is to gain real life experience and practical knowledge how the court works is done. To know about the roles of each individual in court proceeding and how advocates interact with their clients and how the case is presented before the judge.

Personal objectives

Skill development:

To strengthen practical legal skills including legal research, drafting of legal documents, case analysis, and client communication. I aimed to develop the ability to apply theoretical legal concepts to real-life scenarios and to work effectively under the supervision of experienced legal professionals.

Professional exposure:

To gain firsthand exposure to the functioning of a professional legal environment by observing and participating in day-to-day operations of a law firm/legal institution. My objective was to understand professional ethics, time management in legal practice, and to learn through interaction with lawyers, clients, and court personnel.

Knowledge enhancement:

To gain insight into procedural aspects of the legal system, including case filing, trial preparation, and court proceedings and to develop a well-rounded understanding of specialized legal areas through exposure to case management, legal documentation, and institutional legal processes, thereby aligning academic theory with professional practice

Professional objectives:

Carrier alignment:

This internship was strategically undertaken to support my long-term career objective. The responsibilities assigned—such as conducting legal research, drafting legal documents, assisting with case preparation, and observing proceedings—provided practical exposure that closely aligns with the competencies required in my intended field of practice.

Abstract: Observing the Subordinate Judiciary

- This report summarizes an intensive [Insert Duration, e.g., four-week] internship undertaken at the District and Sessions Court, Patna, Bihar. The primary objective was to acquire practical, ground-level exposure to the operational realities of India's subordinate judiciary and bridge the gap between doctrinal legal education and courtroom practice.
- The court, functioning in dual capacities—as the District Court for civil matters and the Sessions Court for criminal trials—provided a holistic view of litigation. Key activities involved daily observation of judicial proceedings across various benches, including those handling matters under the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 (CrPC) for bail applications, evidence recording, and arguments in cases of serious offenses (e.g., IPC violations), and the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (CPC) for disputes related to property and succession.
- Further exposure was gained in specialized courts, such as the Family Court and courts dealing with the Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881. My role included assisting the supervising advocate with case management, performing statutory research on evolving state and central precedents, and drafting initial legal documents, including plaints, written statements, and bail petitions.
- The internship offered invaluable insights into courtroom decorum, the intricate process of judicial documentation, and the critical role of procedural law in ensuring justice delivery. This experience significantly enhanced my professional understanding of litigation strategy and the socio-legal context of justice in the state of Bihar, serving as a foundational step toward a career in legal practice.

CERTIFICATE OF INTERNSHIP

This is to certify that

has successfully completed an internship at District court Of Patna from 3rd June 2025 to 1st July 2025.

Abstract

This report presents an analytical overview of my one-month legal internship at the Revenue Court, Handia, Prayagraj (U.P.), under the supervision of Advocate Ranjeet Yadav. The internship provided an in-depth understanding of the practical functioning of the U.P. Revenue Code, 2006 and the judicial mechanisms governing land and revenue disputes at the tehsil level. The primary objectives were to gain professional exposure, enhance practical legal skills, and bridge the gap between theoretical learning and real-world legal application.

During the internship, I engaged in various activities such as attending court proceedings, assisting in case file preparation, drafting affidavits and mutation applications, interacting with clients, and studying disposed-off case files. Through these experiences, I gained first-hand knowledge of procedures relating to mutation, partition, demarcation, and tenancy disputes. A key learning area was the functioning of the Sub-Divisional Magistrate (SDM) as the presiding authority in revenue adjudication and the coordination among officials like Tehsildars, Lekhpals, and Kanungos.

Two major case studies—(1) a mutation dispute involving domestic violence and (2) dispossession of a widow from inherited land—highlighted the intersection of gender justice and property rights in rural settings. These cases underscored the role of procedural fairness, notice compliance, and the protection of women's inheritance rights under the U.P. Revenue Code.

The internship also involved close observation of professional ethics, emphasizing confidentiality, integrity in documentation, and honest client consultation. Exposure to digital tools such as Bhulekh and the Revenue Court Management System (RCMS) enhanced my understanding of e-governance and transparency in revenue administration.

Overall, this internship significantly strengthened my legal reasoning, drafting proficiency, research ability, and professional discipline. It fostered a practical comprehension of how rural justice is administered through the revenue judiciary, reaffirming my commitment to ethical legal practice and justice-oriented advocacy. The experience served as a vital foundation for my future legal career, combining academic knowledge with grounded practical insight.

1. INTRODUCTION

As a part of my academic training in the first year of my B.A. LL.B course at Guru Ghasidas Vishwavidyala (A Central University), Bilaspur (C.G.) I undertook a 28 days legal internship at district & session court Mirzapur (U.P.) from 3rd June to 30th June 2025. This internship was completed under the esteemed guidance of Mr. Sushil Kumar Yadav. The primary objective of this internship was to gain practical exposure to the real functioning of the legal system.

The internship offered a unique opportunity to observe and understand the operations of the district judiciary. As a law student, our foundational knowledge is built primarily on theoretical framework and academic discussion but the actual application of the legal principle, courtroom procedure, F.I.R, investigation process, reports, documents, and case management can only be truly understood through practical exposure.

This internship helped bridge that gap by allowing me to observe real court proceedings, client interactions, daily work of advocates, clerks and judges.

This experience served as a strong foundation for my legal education and inspired me to pursue a deeper interest in litigation.

Overall, This internship effectively connected my academic legal studies with the practical demands of the profession, marking a formative and memorable stage in my early legal development.

1.1 INTERNSHIP OBJECTIVE

The primary objective of this internship was to gain practical exposure to court proceedings and understand the application of legal principles in real-life scenarios. As a first-year law student, I aimed to bridge the gap between academic learning and courtroom practice by observing civil and criminal cases. I sought to improve my legal drafting, research, and analytical skills while learning courtroom etiquette and professional ethics. The experience helped me explore different areas of law and strengthened my foundation for future legal studies and practice.

1. INTRODUCTION

As a first-year law student at Guru Ghasidas Vishwavidyalaya, Koni, Bilaspur (a Central University), I undertook a 28-day internship at Patna District And Session Court from 3rd June to 29th June 2025 under the guidance of Mr. Rakesh Ranjan Srivastava , a senior advocate with more than 10 years of experience in litigation. This internship provided me with meaningful exposure to the daily functioning of the judiciary, including both civil and criminal cases.

The internship aimed to bridge the gap between academic study and practical application of law. I observed real-time court proceedings across a range of matters, including property disputes, injunctions, recovery suits, rent control cases, and family law issues. I also had the opportunity to attend hearings in criminal matters such as theft, assault, and POCSO cases, which helped me understand the application of the Indian Penal Code and Criminal Procedure Code.

In addition to courtroom observation, I was involved in legal drafting, preparing summaries, and assisting in document handling. This experience strengthened my knowledge of procedural laws and improved my skills in research, communication, and analysis. Overall, the internship laid a strong foundation for my future in both civil and criminal litigation.

Overall, this internship was a stepping stone in my journey toward becoming a responsible and skilled legal professional. It gave me a practical vision of the career I aspire to build and instilled confidence for future challenges.

Abstract

As a BALLB student, gaining practical experience is just as important as academic knowledge. Internships provide an opportunity to step outside the classroom and witness how the legal system functions in the real world. With this aim, I undertook a legal internship at the High Court of Chhattisgarh, Bilaspur, to observe court proceedings, understand case strategies, and learn directly under the guidance of a senior advocate.

The one-month internship at the High Court of Chhattisgarh, Bilaspur under the guidance of Advocate R.V. Ram Rajwade from 1st June to 30th June was a truly eye-opening and enriching experience. As a BALLB student, this was my first real exposure to how courts actually function beyond textbooks and classroom discussions. I got to see how cases are argued, how judges respond, and how the legal process moves forward in real time — something that no amount of theory can fully teach.

Throughout the internship, I had the opportunity to observe a variety of cases, including civil disputes, criminal trials, and constitutional matters. I attended court hearings regularly, sat through client meetings, and assisted in basic legal research and drafting. Watching experienced advocates frame arguments and respond to questions from the bench helped me understand the importance of clarity, confidence, and preparation in legal practice.

This experience taught me not just about the law, but also about the courtroom environment — its discipline, language, and rhythm. I learned how petitions are drafted and filed, how legal research is done on real cases, and how client interactions are handled professionally. Overall, this internship has helped strengthen my decision to pursue litigation and given me a clearer picture of what life as a practicing lawyer really looks like.

Abstract

Internships form an indispensable part of the academic journey of a law student, offering practical exposure and bridging the gap between theoretical education and professional legal practice. They serve as a foundation for understanding the legal system in a real-world context and assist students in identifying their areas of interest and potential career paths.

As part of my B.A. LL.B. curriculum, I undertook a one-month internship from 1st June to 30th June 2025 under the guidance of Advocate Sushil Kumar Sharma, at the District & Sessions Court, Mathura, Uttar Pradesh. This internship not only deepened my understanding of various laws and procedural practices but also introduced me to the ethical standards and professional conduct essential in the legal field.

The court is a dynamic institution where multiple elements such as judicial interpretation, client interaction, advocacy skills, and administrative support function together. During my internship, I was able to observe and learn how criminal and civil trials are conducted, how legal arguments are framed, and how justice is dispensed at the grassroots level.

This report is a reflection of the knowledge I acquired, the skills I developed, and the observations I made during this immersive legal experience. It covers various aspects of my internship ranging from courtroom proceedings and legal drafting to personal development and ethical values that I embraced through continuous learning.

This Law Internship has been a transformative experience, shaping both my personal and professional development as a future legal practitioner. Engaging with real cases, court proceedings, and legal searches. I gained invaluable practical insight that bridged the gap between academic theory and real world application. I observed seasoned attorney craft persuasive argument and learned the importance of empathy, effective communication, and translating complex legal concept for clients. This internship deepend my understanding of legal ethics, strategy and case management, while also heightening my awarenss of the societal impact of legal decision. The guidance from mentor and the oppurtunity to witness justice in action have equipped me with the tools and prespectives neccessaary for a successful legal career.

The internship also emphasized the growing importance of digitalization in the judiciary, as observed in filing sections and administrative platforms like Lok Anumandal, which promote transparency and accountability. Overall, the internship served as an essential introduction to the practical dimensions of law—encompassing client interaction, case management, research, and procedural decorum. This experience has further fueled my passion for law and streghened my commitment to justice, equity, and continios learning.

ABSTRACT

Undoubtedly, this law internship has been an instrumental stepping stone in my personal and professional development. Each day brought new challenges and learning opportunities, contributing to my growth as a future legal practitioner. The exposure to real cases, court proceedings, and legal research has imparted a practical dimension to my academic knowledge. Witnessing the strategies employed by seasoned attorneys, I have learned the art of crafting compelling legal arguments and presenting them with confidence and conviction. Moreover, engaging with clients and observing their interactions with my supervising attorneys has underscored the importance of empathy, effective communication, and the ability to translate complex legal concepts into understandable advice. These interpersonal skills are essential for building trust and rapport, which are foundational in a client-centric profession.

This internship has also heightened my awareness of the broader societal impact of legal decisions. Witnessing the pursuit of justice and the resolution of disputes has instilled in me a profound sense of responsibility as a future advocate for fairness and equity. The guidance and feedback provided by my mentors have been invaluable in shaping my understanding of the legal profession. Their insights into legal strategy, case management, and ethical considerations have expanded my perspective and refined my approach to legal challenges. In essence, this internship has equipped me with a comprehensive toolkit that extends beyond legal theory. It has instilled in me a sense of purpose, a commitment to continuous learning, and a determination to contribute positively to the legal community and society at large. As I move forward, I am resolute in my pursuit of excellence, driven by the lessons learned, experiences gained, and relationships formed during this transformative internship. I am excited to embrace the challenges that lie ahead and make a meaningful impact in the world of law.

In conclusion, my law internship has been an invaluable journey of discovery, growth, and practical learning. The hands-on experiences, guided by seasoned legal professionals, have provided me with a deeper understanding of the legal system and its intricate workings. Through court observations, client interactions, and drafting exercises, I have not only honed essential legal skills but also gained insights into the broader dimensions of the legal profession. This internship has illuminated the transition from theoretical knowledge to real-world application, allowing me to witness legal theories come to life in the courtroom. I have learned the importance of meticulous research, effective communication, and ethical conduct, all of which are integral to the success of a legal practitioner. Furthermore, the exposure to diverse legal areas and the opportunity to connect with legal experts and fellow interns have enriched my understanding of the multifaceted nature of law.

The Bettiah was Sub-Division of old Champaran District of Bihar in old Tirhut Division prior to it came into being in 1972 as a result of re-organization of the District in Bihar.

West Champaran has been divided into two police District- Bettiah and Bagaha. Judicial history of West Champaran is very old. Upto 1906 West Champaran was under the jurisdiction of District and Sessions Judge, Saran with headquarters at Chapra. It was placed under the jurisdiction of District and Sessions judge, Muzaffarpur.

In the year 1945, a separate judgeship of Champaran was established and Khan Bahadur Mohd Ebrahim was the first district and Sessions Judge, with headquarters at Motihari.

District of West Champaran got its judgeship status on 30th, November, 1976 and Sri Ramesh Pathak was the first District and Sessions Judge.

Sub-Divisional Court at Bagaha was inaugurated on 25th Feb 1982. On 27th April 1987 Sub Judge's court and on 23th April 2005, court of Additional District Judge was inaugurated at Bagaha. Sri JP Singh was first Additional District and Sessions Judge at Bagaha. There is new constructed Civil Court at Narkatiyaganj SubDivision

ABSTRACT

The internship at Samarjit NGO provided an enriching opportunity to understand the practical aspects of social work and community engagement. The primary focus of the program was to promote legal awareness, human rights education, and social welfare initiatives among underprivileged communities. Through participation in awareness drives, research work, and field visits, I gained insight into the challenges faced by marginalized groups and the role of NGOs in bridging the gap between law and society. The internship also emphasized the importance of empathy, effective communication, and teamwork in addressing social issues. Overall, this experience enhanced my understanding of how legal knowledge can be applied beyond the courtroom to empower individuals and contribute to the realization of social justice.

Chapter01:-Introduction

As a law student, gaining practical exposure is an essential part of legal education. Classroom teaching imparts theoretical knowledge, but practical training helps in understanding how law operates in reality. To fulfill this objective, I undertook an internship at the Civil Court, Hilsa, Nalanda, Bihar, from 02/06/2025 to 30/06/2025. This internship was aimed at bridging the gap between theoretical learning and practical application of legal principles. During the internship, I had the opportunity to observe court proceedings, interact with advocates and court staff, and learn about the functioning of the judiciary at the grassroots level.

◆ Personal Objective

- To gain practical exposure to the functioning of the Civil Court and observe court proceedings and understand trial processes also study the practical application of procedural laws, especially the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908. Help me to learn the drafting of legal documents, pleadings, and applications. To understand the roles and responsibilities of judges, advocates, and court staff and enhance legal research skills and case analysis abilities and develop professional ethics and courtroom etiquette and also understand the challenges faced in real-life legal practice

○ Professional Objective

My professional objective in pursuing this internship at the Civil Court, Hilsa, was to acquire practical skills and firsthand experience in the field of law. I aimed to understand how legal principles are applied in real-life scenarios and to observe the functioning of the judiciary at the trial court level.

Through this internship, I intended to:

- Develop professional competence in court procedures and legal drafting
- Enhance my knowledge of civil litigation processes
- Gain practical insights into the roles of judges, advocates, and court staff
- Improve my legal research and analytical skills
- Cultivate ethical practices and professional behaviour required in the legal profession
- Prepare myself for future responsibilities as a legal practitioner

This internship was an important step toward my goal of becoming a competent and responsible legal professional, capable of contributing effectively to the justice delivery system.

Abstract

This report gives an overview of my 35-day internship at the Patna High Court, Patna, held from 1st June to 5th July 2025 as part of my B.A. LL.B. (II Semester) course at Guru Ghasidas Central University, Bilaspur (C.G.). The main aim of this Internship was to gain real-life exposure to how courts function and to understand how the laws we study in class are actually applied in practice. During this period, I had the opportunity to observe court proceedings closely, assist in legal research and drafting, and understand how cases are filed, argued, and managed. I also got to interact with advocates, clients, and court staff, which helped me understand the professional ethics and day-to-day working of the legal field. I studied and prepared reports on two significant cases—Nishant Kumar v. State of Bihar (2025) and Nityanand Rai v. State of Bihar (2025)—which helped me improve my research and analytical skills. I also learned about the newly introduced laws such as the Bhartiya Nyaya Sanhita, 2023, Bhartiya Nagrik Suraksha Sanhita, 2023, and Bhartiya Sakshya Adhinyam, 2023, which are shaping the future of Indian legal practice.

Overall, this internship was a great learning experience that gave me a practical understanding of the legal system and built my confidence for future professional challenges. It not only enhanced my academic knowledge but also helped me grow personally by improving my discipline, communication, and observation skills.

ABSTRACT

This law internship has been a transformative experience, shaping both my personal and professional development as a future legal practitioner. Engaging with real cases, court proceedings and legal research. I gained invaluable practical insights that bridged the gap between academic theory and real world application. I observed seasoned attorneys craft persuasive arguments and learned the importance of empathy, effective communication and translating complex legal concepts for clients. This internship deepened my understanding of legal ethics, strategy and case management, while also brightening my awareness of societal impact of legal decisions. The guidance from mentors and the opportunity to witness justice in action have occupied me with the tools and perspectives necessary for a successful legal career. This experience has fueled my passion for law and strengthened my commitment to justice, equity and continuous learning.

ABSTRACT

This internship report summarizes four weeks of practical training from 2nd June to 29th June 2025, undertaken by Sambhav Kumar, a student of B.A. LL.B. 2nd Semester, Guru Ghasidas Vishwavidyalaya, Bilaspur, at the District Legal Services Authority, Sitamarhi, Bihar, constituted under the Legal Services Authorities Act, 1987. The objectives were exposure to legal aid administration, understanding of aid provided to marginalized groups, assisting in awareness programs, observation of Lok Adalats, and other alternative dispute resolution mechanisms.

The daily activities included visits to the courts, namely District Judge, Judicial Magistrates, Family Court, Labour Court, Consumer Commission, Fast Track Court, Juvenile Justice Board, mediation sessions; observation of police stations and jails; legal awareness camps in rural areas and Rain Basera, victim compensation file management, Bihar Victim Compensation Scheme case studies, POCSO and divorce matters, community outreach programs on International Yoga Day and Anti-Drug Abuse Day. Key learnings included the explanation of hierarchy-NALSA-SLSA-DLSA, constitutional mandate-Articles 39A, 14, 21, ADR processes, ethical lawyering; and socio-economic barriers to justice.

The challenges to be faced included the lack of practical knowledge initially, language barriers, time management, emotional exposure to sensitive cases, and limited digital resources; these were resolved through mentorship, simplified communication, task prioritization, self-reflection, and offline tools. This internship curated legal research, drafting, empathy, and professional skills, thus further solidifying the role of DLSAs in ensuring equitable justice and inspiring socially responsive legal practice.

ABSTRACT

My internship at the District Court was a profoundly enriching and transformative experience that provided me with a practical understanding of the functioning of the Indian judicial system. As a law student, I had previously studied legal provisions, case laws, and procedural frameworks in theory, but this internship allowed me to witness their real-life application. It served as a bridge between academic learning and practical exposure, helping me to grasp the complexities of court proceedings, client interactions, and the actual working of advocates and judges within the judicial framework. The internship also helped me understand the challenges of the judicial system, such as heavy caseloads, delays, and procedural complexities. It gave me a realistic picture of the everyday struggles faced by litigants and lawyers alike. Attending mediation sessions and Lok Adalats introduced me to the concept of alternative dispute resolution, which showed me how justice can be achieved in a more collaborative and time-efficient manner. Observing such sessions strengthened my belief in the importance of negotiation and conciliation in achieving social harmony. Beyond academic learning, this experience significantly contributed to my personal and professional growth. It enhanced my confidence in public communication, observation, and legal reasoning. I learned courtroom etiquette, the art of legal argumentation, and how to maintain ethical standards as a legal professional. Most importantly, it instilled in me a deeper respect for the judicial system and the responsibility that comes with being part of the legal fraternity.

ABSTRACT

After completion of my 2nd semester, as a law student I was required to utilize my holidays by doing internship under either an advocate, law firm or in a NGO. So, I chose and applied under Aarambh NGO. My internship at Aarambh NGO, Sambalpur, was a valuable learning experience that helped me understand the practical side of social work and community development. Aarambh focuses on spreading awareness about important social issues and supporting different welfare activities. During my internship, I was involved in several projects related to education, women empowerment, poverty reduction, and animal welfare. I helped in planning and organizing monthly drives, attending meetings, and participating in awareness campaigns.

Through these activities, I learned how community engagement and teamwork play a key role in bringing change. I also gained skills in communication, event coordination, and report writing. Interacting with beneficiaries and volunteers helped me understand the real challenges faced by different social groups. Although there were times when managing tasks and fieldwork felt challenging, I learned to work responsibly and efficiently.

Overall, the internship gave me meaningful insights into social welfare work and strengthened my commitment to contribute positively to society. It helped me grow both personally and professionally, showing me how small efforts can make a big difference in people's lives.

ABSTRACT

This report details a one-month internship undertaken by Rishabh Raj, a B.A. LLB 2nd Semester student from Guru Ghasidas Central University, from June 2nd to June 30th, 2025. The internship was completed at the District and Sessions Court in Bihar Sharif, Nalanda, under the guidance of Senior Advocate Mr. Shailendra Kumar. The core objective was to gain practical exposure to the functioning of the judiciary and to connect theoretical legal education with real-world practice. The report outlines daily activities, which included observing live court proceedings in both civil and criminal matters, studying case files (such as FIRs, charge sheets, and medical reports), and learning procedural aspects of the law, including the filing of petitions. Key experiences involved analyzing bail applications, drafting RTI petitions, and observing client counseling. The report also includes two case studies—one criminal and one civil—to illustrate the practical application of law. The internship provided significant learning outcomes, enhancing understanding of court hierarchy, procedural law, legal drafting, and professional decorum in the legal field.

BALLB, 1st year 2nd semester

ABSTRACT

This internship with the State Legal Service Authority (SLSA) in Daman provided a crucial practical understanding of the constitutional mandate of legal aid and equitable access to justice. The experience moved beyond traditional legal practice, focusing instead on the state's apparatus for implementing the Legal Services Authorities Act, 1987, and serving marginalised communities. I gained comprehensive exposure to the operational mechanisms of the SLSA, including the screening of applicants based on statutory eligibility criteria and the efficient deployment of legal resources. I actively participated in the administrative setup for Lok Adalat proceedings, assisting in the pre-counselling phase and documentation required for the amicable settlement of disputes across various legal domains, such as MACT, matrimonial, and bank recovery cases. Furthermore, the internship refined my professional skills in client counselling, requiring empathy and clarity to explain complex legal issues to unrepresented and vulnerable citizens. I conducted targeted research to support the preparation of awareness materials for legal literacy camps and assisted Para-Legal Volunteers (PLVs) in community outreach efforts. This exposure cultivated a profound appreciation for pro bono service, legal ethics, and the essential role of public institutions in bridging the gap between law and society, significantly contributing to my development as a socially conscious legal professional.

PREFACE

The journey through the realm of law has been a remarkable experience, shaped by both theoretical knowledge and practical exposure. This report encapsulates the invaluable insights gained during my legal internship at DISTRICT COURT, GAYA situated in BIHAR. Over the course of 4 weeks, I had the privilege to immerse myself in the intricacies of the legal profession, bridging the gap between classroom learning and real-world application.

This internship not only provided an opportunity to witness the inner workings of a dynamic legal environment but also offered a chance to contribute to meaningful cases and projects under the mentorship of experienced legal professionals. The tasks assigned to me contributed to my growth as a legal practitioner in its unique way.

Throughout this report, I will reflect on the tasks undertaken, the challenges encountered, the solutions devised, and the lessons learned. This documentation seeks to shed light on the practical dimensions of legal practice and the fusion of theoretical understanding with hands-on experience.

I am immensely grateful to Sri Uday Kumar, and the entire team at DISTRICT COURT, GAYA for their guidance, support, and patience. Their expertise and willingness to share their knowledge have been instrumental in shaping my perception of the legal profession.

As I embark on this journey of recounting my legal internship, I hope that this report not only serves as a record of my experiences but also as a source of inspiration for those aspiring to delve into the fascinating world of law.

ABSTRACT

This report documents the four-week legal internship undertaken by Prateek Kumar, a B.A.LL.B. (IInd Semester) student from Guru Ghasidas Vishwavidyalaya, Bilaspur, at the Civil Court, Bettiah, West Champaran, Bihar, under the supervision of Advocate Ranjeet Kumar Dwivedy, from June 2 to June 30, 2025. The internship provided practical exposure to the functioning of a district judiciary, aligning with the student's personal objectives of skill development (legal drafting, communication) and professional goals of career alignment and real-world application of legal theory.

Key activities included drafting prosecution-oriented legal opinions, assisting in bail hearings and trial preparations, preparing and notarizing legal documents (affidavits, indemnity bonds), and conducting title and loan document verification for institutional clients. A significant case analysis involved an ancestral property dispute, where the intern contributed to legal research on adverse possession and the interpretation of the Transfer of Property Act and the Registration Act, particularly on the validity of unregistered transfer documents, applying the Suraj Lamp & Industries Pvt. Ltd. v. State of Haryana precedent.

The experience underscored that legal practice is more structured and documentation-heavy than initially expected, contrasting with initial assumptions of a dynamic, highly-dramatized environment. The intern honed skills in legal research, professional ethics (confidentiality, integrity), and adapting to the unpredictable workflow of the court. The internship successfully bridged the gap between academic knowledge and the procedural realities of the Indian legal system, affirming the student's commitment to law.

ABSTRACT

My internship at the Uttar Pradesh Human Rights Commission (UPHRC) was a great learning experience that gave me a clear understanding of how an institution works to protect people's rights. During my time there, I got to see how the Commission investigates and handles cases of human rights violations, especially those related to custodial deaths. Learning about these cases helped me understand the importance of fairness, accountability, and proper procedures in maintaining justice and preventing misuse of power. I also got to learn how complaints are filed, registered, and processed under the Protection of Human Rights Act, 1993, which showed me how the Commission ensures justice for victims. One of the most insightful parts of the internship was visiting the District Jail in Lucknow, where I observed the conditions of inmates and how human rights principles are applied inside prisons. This visit helped me connect what I had studied with real-life situations and understand why humane treatment, rehabilitation, and reform are so important. Overall, this internship not only increased my knowledge about human rights but also inspired me to work towards promoting justice, equality, and respect for all individuals.

ABSTRACT

The learning I gained was a rich culmination of a blend of the theoretical from books and an actual practice of law. I participated in court proceedings, attended legal drafting meetings, and reviewed earlier cases, working with civil, criminal, and writ cases while observing judges handling of judicial demeanour and telling of procedure. I was immersed in many cases with different complexities, and under the direction of senior advocates and the judicial officer, I helped maintain case files, conduct client briefings, prepare for trial, and support legal services initiatives like Lok Adalat, other mediation, and clinics. I participated in doctrinal legal research using SCC Online and Manupatra, which added to my understanding of constitutional remedies, service jurisprudence, natural justice, and precision of writing. I learned about filing procedures and the e-Courts system to further advance my experience with judicial administration. Overall, I developed learning essential skills in legal writing, research and analysis, reasoning, ethics, professionalism, and time management in an extremely demanding environment. While experiencing difficulties from navigating complex case files and meeting deadlines, I employed intentional planning and experiential approaches to learning.

To conclude, the experience exceeded my expectations at the beginning of the placement, with my role changed from an observer to a fully engaged participant I learned that I can be a successful legal practitioner based on meaningful attachment to an ethos of justice in the values and professionalism I applied to my practice of law.

Introduction of the Project

The study of law is not confined to textbooks or classroom lectures alone. It requires exposure to real-world scenarios to truly comprehend the essence of legal practice. As a first-year law student, I was keen to supplement my academic learning with practical experience, and this internship at the Sidhi District and Sessions Court provided me with the perfect opportunity to do so.

The internship was designed to offer hands-on experience of the day-to-day functioning of the courts, providing an in-depth understanding of judicial processes and legal practice. Under the expert mentorship of Advocate Vinod Singh Chandel, I had the privilege of attending court hearings, drafting legal documents, researching case laws, and observing interactions between clients, advocates, and judges.

Through this experience, I gained valuable insights into the procedural and substantive aspects of the Indian legal system. I also developed an appreciation for the ethical standards, communication skills, and analytical abilities required to succeed in the legal profession. The knowledge and skills acquired during this internship have significantly contributed to my professional development and have laid a strong foundation for my future career as a legal practitioner.

INTRODUCTION

Internships form an indispensable part of the academic journey of a law student, offering practical exposure and bridging the gap between theoretical education and professional legal practice. They serve as a foundation for understanding the legal system in a real-world context and assist students in identifying their areas of interest and potential career paths.

As part of my B.A. LL.B. curriculum, I undertook a one-month internship from 2nd June to 30th June 2025 under the guidance of Pt. Mahaveer Sharma, Advocate, at the District & Sessions Court, Auraiya, Uttar Pradesh. This internship not only deepened my understanding of various laws and procedural practices but also introduced me to the ethical standards and professional conduct essential in the legal field.

The court is a dynamic institution where multiple elements such as judicial interpretation, client interaction, advocacy skills, and administrative support function together. During my internship, I was able to observe and learn how criminal and civil trials are conducted, how legal arguments are framed, and how justice is dispensed at the grassroots level.

Additionally, the experience helped me gain insights into procedural mechanisms like filing of suits, issuance of summons, recording of evidence, and final arguments. I got the opportunity to interact with a variety of legal professionals including public prosecutors, clerks, and advocates, each contributing uniquely to the justice delivery system.

This report is a reflection of the knowledge I acquired, the skills I developed, and the observations I made during this immersive legal experience. It covers various aspects of my internship ranging from courtroom proceedings and legal drafting to personal development and ethical values that I embraced through continuous learning.

The summer internship under the guidance of an advocate at the District Court provided me with valuable practical exposure to the functioning of the judicial system. During the internship, I observed the daily proceedings of various courts, including civil, criminal, and family courts, which enhanced my understanding of courtroom procedures, client advocacy, and case management.

My mentor explained the importance of legal ethics, client confidentiality, and professional conduct in practice. I also observed the interaction between advocates and clients, which helped me understand the real-world application of legal principles studied in classrooms. The internship improved my analytical and communication skills, especially through discussions on case laws and legal strategies.

Overall, this internship bridged the gap between theoretical learning and practical application of law. It gave me firsthand experience of how justice is delivered at the grassroots level and inspired me to pursue further study and research in the field of litigation and advocacy. The exposure to real cases, procedural intricacies, and the professional environment of the District Court has been an enriching and foundational experience for my legal education.

Abstract

This internship report presents a comprehensive account of my 1-month legal internship at Aarambh NGO, Sambalpur, Odisha, conducted from 1st June to 30th June 2025 as part of the B.A.LL.B program at Guru Ghasidas Vishwavidyalaya. The internship aimed to bridge academic learning with practical exposure to legal processes in the non-profit sector. Under the mentorship of Mr. M. Nagrajan, I engaged in diverse activities including legal research, NGO documentation, grant proposal drafting, memorandum of understanding (MoU) preparation, and policy formulation related to compliance and funding. The experience provided an in-depth understanding of the FCRA, Societies Registration Act, Trust Act, and Section 8 Companies Act, highlighting their relevance to NGO governance and transparency. Working in an interactive and ethical environment, I developed key professional skills such as legal drafting, analytical reasoning, and policy writing. The internship not only enhanced my legal competence but also reinforced my commitment to social justice and community empowerment through law.

Abstract

This internship report captures my one-month legal training experience at the Civil Court, Begusarai, Bihar, conducted from 3rd June to 3rd July 2025 under the supervision of Advocate Nagendra Jha. The internship served as a bridge between academic learning and real-world legal practice, offering me invaluable exposure to the judicial system's functioning, ethics, and procedures.

During this period, I observed court proceedings, assisted in drafting legal documents, verified title and loan papers, and contributed to case preparation for both civil and criminal matters. My work involved analysing FIRs, charge sheets, and medical reports; preparing affidavits and property disclosures; and conducting legal research on key statutes such as the Transfer of Property Act, 1882, and the Registration Act, 1908. I also examined landmark judgments to support arguments in property disputes and bail applications.

The internship provided a first-hand understanding of courtroom decorum, case management, and client communication. I gained insights into how advocates balance evidence, ethics, and time constraints while maintaining professional integrity. Moreover, exposure to the E-Courts system, digital filing, and legal aid mechanisms deepened my appreciation for modernization in the judiciary.

Through interaction with senior advocates and judicial staff, I learned that the practice of law extends far beyond theoretical knowledge—it requires patience, adaptability, and ethical judgment. This experience sharpened my skills in research, drafting, and critical analysis while reinforcing the importance of professional responsibility and compassion in legal service.

Overall, this internship was a transformative learning journey. It strengthened my understanding of procedural law, honed my analytical and communication abilities, and inspired me to pursue a legal career rooted in justice, empathy, and integrity.

Abstract

The internship report details a comprehensive four-week legal internship undertaken by Ayush Kumar Maurya at the Civil Court, Gyanpur Bhadohi, Uttar Pradesh, under the supervision of Mr. Krishna Kumar Malviya, Advocate. The primary objectives were twofold—to acquire practical legal skills—ranging from drafting legal documents and conducting research to enhancing client communication—and to gain professional exposure by attending court proceedings, participating in client meetings, and engaging with live case files. Immersion in the court's operations deepened the intern's understanding of judicial procedures, case law, and statutory interpretation, while also refining document drafting, analytical reasoning, and time management abilities.

A diverse set of daily tasks and responsibilities included preparing legal opinions, assisting in bail hearings, scrutinizing case files, drafting and notarizing documents, verifying title and loan documents, and supporting excise raid litigation strategies. The report highlights hands-on contributions such as conducting legal research on pivotal property disputes, verifying evidence, and summarizing landmark cases, thus aiding advocates in structuring legal arguments and providing procedural support during hearings. The internship fostered regular interaction with senior legal professionals, offering vital insights into trial strategy formation, ethical client dealings, and judicial administration dynamics.

Throughout the experience, the intern developed a well-rounded perspective on professional legal practice, acquiring key skills in legal drafting, judgment analysis, and multitasking in a dynamic environment. Challenges centered on adapting to the unpredictable pace of legal proceedings and managing shifting priorities with composure and efficiency. The experience underscored that substantive legal growth is achieved not just through exposure to high-profile litigation, but largely through patient observation, diligent documentation, and thoughtful engagement with the legal process.

Ultimately, the internship bridged the gap between theoretical knowledge and real-world application, cultivating both technical and ethical competencies. It affirmed the importance of professional integrity, proactive learning, and adaptability for a successful legal career while identifying areas for continued growth such as assertive courtroom engagement and advanced procedural fluency. This enriching internship journey has laid a strong foundation for future contributions within India's legal system.

ABSTRACT

This report presents an overview of my internship undertaken at the Chhattisgarh Institute of Arbitration and Mediation (CGIAM). The internship aimed to provide me with practical exposure to the mechanisms of Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR), particularly arbitration and mediation. During the tenure, I focused on understanding the procedural aspects of arbitration, the drafting of arbitration clauses, and the role of mediators in resolving disputes amicably. I also had the opportunity to observe live mediation and arbitration sessions, study relevant case laws, and analyze statutory provisions under the Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996. Through this experience, I gained a deeper understanding of the significance of ADR in reducing judicial backlog and promoting speedy, cost-effective justice. The internship greatly enhanced my theoretical knowledge as well as my practical insight into the functioning of ADR institutions in India, while also developing essential skills such as legal drafting, research, and critical analysis.

ABSTRACT

This report presents an overview of my internship experience undertaken at the District Court, Chandauli, Uttar Pradesh, under the guidance of Mr. Sandeep Singh, Senior Advocate. The internship, carried out as part of the B.A. LL.B. program at Guru Ghasidas Central University, Bilaspur (C.G.), aimed to provide practical exposure to the working of the legal system and enhance understanding of the application of law beyond textbooks.

During the internship, I observed various court proceedings, studied case files, learned about drafting, legal documentation, and the hierarchy of courts. I also gained insight into the Right to Information Act, 2005, and the procedural aspects of civil, criminal, and revenue cases. The experience helped bridge the gap between theoretical knowledge and practical implementation, improving my analytical, observational, and communication skills.

Through daily engagement in court activities, client interactions, and discussions with legal professionals, I developed a better understanding of professional ethics, courtroom etiquette, and the challenges faced in the legal profession. The internship was a valuable learning experience that strengthened my foundation in law and motivated me to pursue my future career with greater clarity and commitment.

ABSTRACT

This internship provided a foundational introduction to the practical application of law within the dynamic environment of the District Court. As a first-year law student, I focused on observing the basic mechanics of the judicial process. My responsibilities primarily involved observing court proceedings across civil and criminal jurisdictions, familiarizing myself with the physical layout of case files, and learning the proper courtroom etiquette and procedure. I assisted in organizing documents, drafting simple notes on daily cause lists, and observing client interactions, which provided crucial insight into the preliminary stages of legal practice. The experience emphasized the practical difference between theoretical knowledge and court realities, particularly concerning file maintenance, process serving, and time management in a high-volume setting. This initial exposure to the District Court has reinforced my commitment to legal study and provided a strong, practical baseline for future clinical and academic endeavors.

Abstract

This internship report provides a detailed account of my one-month practical training undertaken from 3rd June to 30th June 2025 under the mentorship of Mr. Radhey Shyam Maurya, Senior Advocate, Civil Court, Prayagraj (Uttar Pradesh). The primary objective of the internship was to gain hands-on exposure to the functioning of courts, legal documentation, client interaction, and the overall professional environment of litigation practice. During this period, I observed several civil and criminal proceedings, studied real case files, and understood the procedural aspects of filing, certified copies, and court hierarchy. I also learned about the significance of Articles 226 and 227 of the Indian Constitution, courtroom discipline, and the ethical conduct expected from legal professionals. This internship enhanced my analytical, interpretative, and communication skills, helping me bridge the gap between theoretical learning and practical application. Moreover, the experience improved my ability to work under pressure, interact with advocates and clients, and adapt to a professional legal setting. Overall, this internship was an enriching and transformative experience that strengthened my understanding of the legal system and reaffirmed my passion for pursuing law as a lifelong career.

ABSTRACT

The learning I gained was a rich culmination of a blend of the theoretical from books and an actual practice of law. I participated in court proceedings, attended legal drafting meetings, and reviewed earlier cases, working with civil, criminal, and writ cases while observing judges handling of judicial demeanour and telling of procedure. I was immersed in many cases with different complexities, and under the direction of senior advocates and the judicial officer, I helped maintain case files, conduct client briefings, prepare for trial, and support legal services initiatives like Lok Adalat, other mediation, and clinics. I participated in doctrinal legal research using SCC Online and Manupatra, which added to my understanding of constitutional remedies, service jurisprudence, natural justice, and precision of writing. I learned about filing procedures and the e-Courts system to further advance my experience with judicial administration. Overall, I developed learning essential skills in legal writing, research and analysis, reasoning, ethics, professionalism, and time management in an extremely demanding environment. While experiencing difficulties from navigating complex case files and meeting deadlines, I employed intentional planning and experiential approaches to learning.

To conclude, the experience exceeded my expectations at the beginning of the placement, with my role changed from an observer to a fully engaged participant I learned that I can be a successful legal practitioner based on meaningful attachment to an ethos of justice in the values and professionalism I applied to my practice of law.

ABSTRACT

This report provides an overview of my legal internship conducted under the guidance of Mr. Madanjeet Kumar, Government Pleader at the Patna High Court, from 3rd June 2025 to 30th June 2025. The internship aimed to provide practical exposure to the functioning of the judiciary and the day-to-day responsibilities of advocates representing the government. During the internship, I actively observed court proceedings in both civil and criminal matters, assisted in organizing case files, analyzed daily cause lists, and performed legal research on constitutional and procedural laws.

I also gained firsthand experience in drafting petitions, counter-affidavits, and legal notices, while understanding the workflow of different court sections such as the filing and record departments. Through regular interactions with senior advocates, I developed a deeper appreciation of advocacy ethics, courtroom conduct, and the procedural nuances of litigation.

This internship significantly enhanced my practical knowledge, analytical thinking, and legal writing skills. It bridged the gap between theoretical understanding and real-world practice, strengthened my interest in litigation, and instilled in me a greater sense of professionalism and discipline necessary for a successful legal career.

Abstract

Internship is all about practical knowledge, experience and learning. I got all these experiences throughout my internship. Being my first internship experience, it was an astounding one for me.

I learned about various terminologies, which were all synonyms for me before coming here. I also learned about hierarchy of courts.

I learned various practical aspects of law. I also learned how to apply law which we study theoretically in a practical situation. I learned how to distinguish that which type of case is a specialty of a judge.

I learned about Right to Information Act, 2005 which is a very good act for getting information from the public authorities. And I also learned many things like court manners, where to sit in the court, how to greet judges and lawyers.

My internship covered various areas and did not confine to any particular topic. We discussed law and other things exhaustively and shared our views on various other things we came across.

ABSTRACT

This internship report, submitted by MD Nahid Alam, a BA.LL.B-II Semester student at Guru Ghasidas Central University, Bilaspur, documents a 30-day legal internship (3rd June to 30th June 2025) under Senior Advocate Smt. Basanti Kumari at the Gaya District and Sessions Court, Bihar. The report details daily activities, including court observations, case file analysis, client consultations, petition drafting, and exposure to various courts (District, Family, Excise, SDM). Key learning includes understanding legal abbreviations, courtroom procedures, constitutional provisions (Articles 226 & 227), bail bonds, digital filing, and judicial reasoning.

Two case studies are analyzed:

Shailesh Kumar v. Kumar Pritam (GR Case No. 1966/25) – a criminal breach of trust case under Section 303(2) BNS, 2023, involving ₹18.5 lakh misappropriated over 21 months, disposed via uncontested disposal.

State of Bihar v. Amit Kumar Singh (Excise Case No. 623/25) – a DUI and liquor consumption violation under the Bihar Prohibition and Excise Act, 2016, resulting in bail with a warning.

The intern reflects on significant learning outcomes: bridging theory and practice, mastering legal terminology, understanding court hierarchy, and developing professional etiquette. Applications to academics, daily life, and future career include improved analytical thinking, daily legal awareness, document drafting skills, and enhanced communication. Major challenges—rigorous schedule, complex legal language, judgment analysis, and social adjustment—were overcome through consistency, guidance, and collaboration.

ABSTRACT

The learning I gained during my internship at the District Court of Raigarh combined theory from my studies with real-world experience in the legal field. With the help of my mentor advocate, I had the chance to observe and take part in various court proceedings, client meetings, and case preparations related to family law, criminal law, and the Atrocities Act.

I helped draft legal documents, organize case files, and research previous judgments to support arguments. I also attended mediation sessions, which showed me the value of alternative dispute resolution and the human aspect of law in family and social conflicts. By experiencing both civil and criminal cases, I learned about courtroom procedures, judicial behavior, and ethical practice. I also gained knowledge about filing processes, case management, and the e-Courts system, which improved my grasp of the administrative side of legal work. This internship allowed me to develop key skills in legal writing, research and analysis, client interaction, and time management while working in a challenging but rewarding environment.

In conclusion, my time at the District Court of Raigarh exceeded my initial expectations. Over time, I transitioned from being just an observer to becoming an active participant in the legal process. I realized that a successful legal practitioner relies not only on knowledge and skill but also on a strong sense of justice, empathy, and professionalism, which I worked hard to demonstrate throughout my internship.

ABSTRACT

This internship experience was the rich culmination of integrating theoretical legal studies with advanced practical application. I actively participated in court proceedings, attended legal drafting meetings, and meticulously reviewed earlier cases while observing judicial officers preside over hearings spanning civil, criminal, and writ matters. I was fully immersed in handling cases of varying complexity, working under the direct guidance of both senior advocates and a judicial officer. My contributions included maintaining detailed case files, preparing client briefs, assisting in trial preparation, and supporting legal services initiatives such as Lok Adalat and other mediation efforts. Furthermore, I participated in focused doctrinal legal research using advanced resources, which significantly enhanced my understanding of constitutional remedies, service jurisprudence, natural justice, and the precision required for legal writing. The experience exceeded my initial expectations, transforming my role from a passive observer to a fully engaged and successful participant who developed essential skills in legal writing, ethical professionalism, and complex case management within an intensely demanding environment.

ABSTRACT

This report provides an overview of my internship experience under Advocate ~~Wajahat~~ Ansari at the Supreme Court of India, New Delhi. The internship offered an invaluable opportunity to observe the functioning of the apex court and to understand the practical aspects of litigation and judicial proceedings. Under the guidance of Advocate Ansari, I was engaged in tasks such as conducting legal research, preparing case briefs, and assisting in drafting petitions and written submissions.

Through regular exposure to court hearings, I gained insights into procedural law, constitutional interpretation, and the significance of precedents in the delivery of justice. The experience also enhanced my understanding of advocacy, ethics, and the importance of clarity and precision in legal writing.

This internship helped me apply theoretical legal knowledge in a real-world setting, improved my analytical and drafting skills, and provided a deeper appreciation for the role of the Supreme Court as the guardian of the Constitution. Overall, it was a transformative and inspiring experience that strengthened my aspiration to pursue a career in litigation and public law.

ABSTRACT

The learning I gained was a rich culmination of a blend of the theoretical from books and an actual practice of law. I participated in court proceedings, attended legal drafting meetings, and reviewed earlier cases, working with civil, criminal, and writ cases while observing judges handling of judicial demeanour and telling of procedure. I was immersed in many cases with different complexities, and under the direction of senior advocates and the judicial officer, I helped maintain case files, conduct client briefings, prepare for trial, and support legal services initiatives like Lok Adalat, other mediation, and clinics. I participated in doctrinal legal research using SCC Online and Manupatra, which added to my understanding of constitutional remedies, service jurisprudence, natural justice, and precision of writing. I learned about filing procedures and the e-Courts system to further advance my experience with judicial administration. Overall, I developed learning essential skills in legal writing, research and analysis, reasoning, ethics, professionalism, and time management in an extremely demanding environment. While experiencing difficulties from navigating complex case files and meeting deadlines, I employed intentional planning and experiential approaches to learning.

To conclude, the experience exceeded my expectations at the beginning of the placement, with my role changed from an observer to a fully engaged participant I learned that I can be a successful legal practitioner based on meaningful attachment to an ethos of justice in the values and professionalism I applied to my practice of law.

INTRODUCTION

The District and Sessions Court, Satna (M.P.), and the District Legal Services Authority, Satna, collectively constitute the core of the judicial and legal aid apparatus at the district level. Situated near the Collectorate in Satna city, the District and Sessions Court was established to serve the entire district on 13 November 1969. It started working under the leadership of the first District and Sessions Judge, Shri Y. P. Pandit, with benches at Satna headquarters and tehsils such as Maihar and Nagod. Over time, it has evolved into a robust judicial institution presided over by the District and Sessions Judge, supported by Additional District Judges, Chief Judicial Magistrates, Civil Judges, and Judicial Magistrates. Besides, the court has separate sections such as the Mediation Centre, Nazir's office, and Record Room. It administers the duty of properly managing court affairs efficiently, ensuring the administration of justice is easily accessible to its seekers. Cases relating to serious crimes and civil cases, disputes of family matters, appeals, etc., are dealt with. This promotes an environment of transparency and, of course, convenience: e-court and mediation facility.

Supplementing the work in the District Court, the District Legal Services Authority, Satna, set up under the Legal Services Authorities Act, 1987, functions from the premises of the District Court itself. It is headed by a District Judge, who is assisted by a secretary, lawyers, and paralegal volunteers. The primary objective of the DLSA would be to ensure free legal aid to the weaker and marginalized sections of society with a view to ensuring equal justice. The DLSA is committed to decreasing the number of cases before regular courts through Lok Adalats, legal literacy programs, and mediation services. In its entirety, these activities are aimed at enabling every citizen to know about their legal rights. The District and Sessions Court and the DLSA, Satna, jointly symbolize the concern of the judiciary towards fairness, accessibility, transparency, and social justice so as to ensure that the concept of the rule of law reaches every section of the people.

ABSTRACT

The internship at the Uttar Pradesh Human Rights Commission (UPHRC), Lucknow, provided me with an invaluable opportunity to understand the real-world application of human rights laws and their enforcement mechanisms. Over the course of one month, I was able to observe and actively participate in the day-to-day functioning of the Commission, which plays a crucial role in safeguarding the rights and dignity of individuals across the state. The internship exposed me to various aspects of human rights protection, including complaint registration, case diary management, research on human rights violations, and the drafting of reports and recommendations.

Through close interaction with officials and legal professionals, I learned how human rights issues are addressed from both legal and administrative perspectives. I participated in discussions and seminars that provided in-depth insights into the importance of human rights awareness, the role of public authorities, and the procedural framework followed by the Commission while investigating complaints. The field visits organized during the internship further enhanced my understanding of how human rights are implemented at the grassroots level and the challenges faced in ensuring justice for all.

This internship not only enriched my theoretical understanding of constitutional and human rights law but also helped me develop essential professional skills such as legal drafting, documentation, and case analysis. It was a bridge between academic learning and practical exposure, allowing me to witness how the principles enshrined in legal texts are transformed into action through the efforts of institutions like the UPHRC.

Overall, the experience strengthened my belief in the importance of upholding human rights and inspired me to contribute meaningfully to the promotion of justice, equality, and human dignity in my future legal career.

1. INTRODUCTION

As a first-year law student at Guru Ghasidas Vishwavidyalaya, Koni, Bilaspur (a Central University), I undertook a 28-day internship at Anuppur District And Session Court from 3rd June to 29th June 2025 under the guidance of Mr. Umesh Rai , a senior advocate with more than 30 years of experience in litigation. This internship provided me with meaningful exposure to the daily functioning of the judiciary, including both civil and criminal cases.

The internship aimed to bridge the gap between academic study and practical application of law. I observed real-time court proceedings across a range of matters, including property disputes, injunctions, recovery suits, rent control cases, and family law issues. I also had the opportunity to attend hearings in criminal matters such as theft, assault, and POCSO cases, which helped me understand the application of the Indian Penal Code and Criminal Procedure Code.

In addition to courtroom observation, I was involved in legal drafting, preparing summaries, and assisting in document handling. This experience strengthened my knowledge of procedural laws and improved my skills in research, communication, and analysis. Overall, the internship laid a strong foundation for my future in both civil and criminal litigation.

Overall, this internship was a stepping stone in my journey toward becoming a responsible and skilled legal professional. It gave me a practical vision of the career I aspire to build and instilled confidence for future challenges.

Abstract

This report summarizes my internship experience at the District and Session Court, Janjgir (Chhattisgarh) conducted from 2nd June 2025 to 30th June 2025 under the guidance of Advocate L.P. Lahre. The internship aimed to bridge the gap between academic learning and practical exposure to the judicial system.

During this period, I actively observed court proceedings, assisted in drafting legal documents, conducted research, and participated in client consultations. My daily work involved preparing petitions, affidavits, bail applications, legal opinions, and analyzing case laws. I also contributed to pro bono legal aid initiatives that enhanced my understanding of the legal system's social responsibilities.

The experience strengthened my research, analytical, and drafting skills, while also improving my time management and professional ethics. I learned the importance of courtroom decorum, discipline, and teamwork. Exposure to real judicial processes gave me a deeper appreciation of the legal profession's role in ensuring justice.

Despite initial challenges such as adapting to legal terminologies and procedural formalities, consistent mentorship and courtroom experience helped me grow in confidence and competence. Overall, the internship was a transformative journey that reinforced my commitment to pursue a responsible and ethical career in law.

ABSTRACT

I am a dedicated and ambitious law student with a strong academic background and a keen interest in pursuing a career in legal practice. My passion for law is driven by a commitment to justice, advocacy, and the intricate workings of the legal system. Through my academic journey, I have developed a solid understanding of various legal principles, including contract law, criminal law, and constitutional law.

During my studies, I have honed my research, analytical, and writing skills, which have been further strengthened by my active participation in moot court competitions, legal research projects, and internships. These experiences have provided me with practical insights into legal procedures, client interactions, and case management.

Through this internship, I aim to apply my academic knowledge to real-world legal challenges, learn from experienced practitioners, and develop my professional skills. I am excited about the opportunity to work in a dynamic and challenging environment, and I am committed to making a meaningful contribution to your firm.

FACULTY OF LAW

9th SEMESTER

UNDER THE GUIDANCE AND SUPERVISION OF

Advocate Mr. Amitabh Shrivastava

District Session Court Korba, Chhattisgarh

Abstract

This internship report chronicles the transformative knowledge and experience gained during a legal internship under the direct supervision of a Justice at the esteemed District Session Court. It explores the application of legal principles learned in the classroom to real-world cases, offering firsthand insights into the inner workings of the high court system.

The report details the diverse tasks undertaken within the Judge's chambers, including in-depth legal research, meticulous drafting of legal documents, and the practical experience of analyzing ongoing cases and trials. This analysis involved critically examining case files, identifying legal issues, and researching relevant precedents. By observing courtroom proceedings firsthand, the internship provided a deeper understanding of legal arguments, judicial reasoning, and the art of persuasion. These experiences illuminate the crucial role of thorough research, clear and concise communication, and critical thinking in effective legal advocacy.

Beyond the development of technical legal skills, the internship emphasized the importance of professional conduct, ethical decision-making, and navigating client interaction within the esteemed legal profession.

This report serves as a powerful testament to the transformative power of legal internships, particularly those under the guidance of a District Session Court Advocate. By bridging the gap between theoretical knowledge and real-world application, such an experience equips law students with the confidence, analytical skills, and practical understanding necessary to excel in their future legal careers.

ABSTRACT

This report details my internship at District and Session Court, Bilaspur (C.G.) from 10th of June to 30th of June 2025. Our internship was based on primarily on the litigation, and the file works. The litigation covers the area of civil, criminal, and corporate matters. During this period, I assisted my senior with the legal research, case proceedings through the litigation process. We were given the task of research related to the cases. During this period, I learnt about the case procedure, drafting and the litigation process. I also observed courtroom proceedings and clients meetings, which provided valuable insight into the practical application of legal principles and significantly enhanced my legal writing, research and analytical skills.

Internship fulfils an important component of both academic and practical education in law. The integration of professional experience into the learning process is highly effective in developing your understanding of the law in actions, as you are able to observe and perceive the relevance and application of theory to practice. Consequently, the program is not simply 'work experience' but a significant educational experience.

In a workspace setting you will be exposed to the reality of the practice of law in all its dimensions - the integration of different areas of law, policy issues the application and development of skills to analysis and resolution of client concerns; ethical responses to situations which arises unexpectedly and spontaneously issues of professional responsibility including responsibility to clients and case management and the operation of the government and court system in the legal process.

Since the inception of B.A.L.L.B. Program at the Guru Ghasidas University, Bilaspur a practical experience component i.e., internship has been part of the compulsory subject and thus of the B.A.L.L.B. degree. The Legal Internship Program is not designed to teach students how to be good lawyers (or how to be lawyers at all) it takes more than study at university to do that.

ABSTRACT

This internship in environmental policy has been a pivotal experience, profoundly influencing my personal and professional journey as an aspiring advocate for sustainability. Through active involvement policy analysis, stakeholder meetings, and advocacy campaigns, I developed essential practical skills that bridged the gap between theoretical frameworks and real-world environmental challenges. I observed experienced professionals navigating complex regulatory landscapes and learned the significance of collaboration, strategic communication, and the art of translating scientific data into accessible information for diverse audiences. This internship enhanced my understanding of environmental ethics, policy formulation, and community engagement, while also increasing my awareness of the broader implications of environmental decisions on social equity and public health. The mentorship I received and the opportunity to contribute to meaningful projects have provided me with the tools and insights necessary for a successful career in environmental law and advocacy. This experience has ignited my passion for sustainable practices and reinforced my commitment to fostering a more equitable and resilient future.

Introduction

The Summer Internship at the Department of Legal Affairs, Ministry of Law and Justice, Government of India allowed me to be completely aware of the convergence between legal theory and application within the contours of public governance. This report captures the significant sets of knowledge and experiences from the internship.

One of the main aspects of the internship was obtaining an understanding of the formal process of drafting legal opinions on challenging constitutional and statutory matters. Based on research and cases I was guided to analyse, I now know how the official advisory role ultimately assures clarity, precision, and neutrality.

The internship also provided a primary focus of the Seventh Schedule of the Indian Constitution which bifurcates legislative powers between the Union and the States. This naturally led into an understanding of Centre-State relations and cooperative versus competitive federalism. Finally, there has been an increased awareness of legislative competence as per Articles 245 – 254. By studying the contentious relationship between the Union and States laws and how they are resolved, my ability to interpret the Constitution has developed further.

Expose you to the law in operation in contexts where you will come to perceive aspects of law which cannot be learned from reading or hearing about it;

- ❖ Allow you to perceive ways in which the formal learning you acquire at university may be applied in practice and thereof to develop an appreciation of the practical dimensions of legal principals;
- ❖ Enable you to relate the different areas of legal practice to the importance of developing the skills of legal research, communication, drafting, practice management and problem- solving; and
- ❖ Enable you to observe and reflect upon the values, ethical standards and conduct of the legal profession in practice and to develop your own attitudes of professional responsibility.

The classroom study and practical training in the field of law is considered as two sides of coin. The legal profession is one of the professions which are considered incomplete without the practical training. An additional benefit of the internship program is that it provides you with an opportunity to observe the way in which law operates in a practical milieu, and so may assist you in making future career choices.

ABSTRACT

This Internship Diary encapsulates my immersive experience during a 30-day internship at the Patna High Court, undertaken from 1 June to 30 June 2025. As a second-year law student at Guru Ghasidas Vishwavidyalaya, Bilaspur, Chhattisgarh, this internship provided a valuable opportunity to observe and participate in the practical applications of legal principles.

This diary chronicles my daily activities, interactions, and insights gained while working under the guidance of Mr. Rajesh Ranjan, Senior Advocate, a seasoned legal professional. It delves into various aspects of legal proceedings, client interactions, and community-oriented initiatives that reflect the Patna High Court's dedication to justice. The narrative captures how theoretical knowledge transformed into tangible skills, involving tasks like legal research, case analysis, and document drafting. It also reflects on the challenges faced, the importance of teamwork, and the role of empathy and communication in legal practice.

The diary interweaves legal theories and classroom concepts with real-world experiences, emphasizing a holistic approach essential for a successful legal career. With a desire to offer an authentic portrayal, this internship diary invites readers to explore a journey that bridges academic foundations with field experience, vital for any aspiring legal professional.

ABSTRACT

This report is submitted on the basis of internship completed in the DISTRICT AND SESSIONS COURT BILASPUR CHHATTISGARH from 2nd June 2025 To 30th June 2025 under the guidance of Mr.NISAR KHAN (Advocate, Bilaspur). Legal internship is an integral part of the education curriculum for law students and is regarded as an essential component of both academic and practical education. The most beneficial aspect of interning at the District and Sessions Court was learning the intricacies of lower court and its proceedings by observing the recording of statements, and appreciation of evidences. It also put me to the exposure of multifarious people, information regarding filing of cases, guidance of hon'ble judges in analyzing cases. I also got to explore my threshold of efficacy and patience. This report describes my learning during the period of the internship. This internship has proved to be very useful and guiding factor in my accomplishments. It has paved way to open wide number of opportunities after gaining significant experience in the learning field. An internship has a significant role to play in the career in any profession. But when it comes to the legal profession, internship becomes a decisive factor for the professional growth. The report also consists of the details of the organizational structure of the institution, its historical background and the overall experience of interning at District And Session court.

ABSTRACT

This report is submitted based on my internship under the guidance of Mr D.V. Soni, an experienced Advocate at the District and Session Court in Hisar, Haryana, spanning from 1ST JUNE 2025 TO 30TH JUNE 2025. During this period, I had the privilege of gaining hands-on experience in various facets of legal practice. My responsibilities were diverse and encompassed assisting in case research, drafting legal documents, and actively participating in court proceedings. I had the opportunity to observe and engage in client consultations, which deepened my understanding of the intricate dynamics between clients and their legal representatives. The internship offered invaluable practical insights into the functioning of the judicial system, including the procedural intricacies involved in courtroom operations.

I gained first-hand experience in applying legal theories to real-world scenarios, enhancing my ability to analyse and interpret legal issues effectively. Moreover, this experience significantly contributed to the development of essential skills such as legal writing, critical analysis, and effective communication. Engaging in drafting legal documents sharpened my attention to detail, while participating in court proceedings improved my ability to navigate and understand legal arguments and procedures. Overall, this internship played a pivotal role in bridging the gap between theoretical knowledge acquired through academic study and its practical application in the legal profession. It has been instrumental in my professional growth, providing me with a solid foundation and practical insights that will guide my future endeavours in the legal field.

ABSTRACT

This Internship Diary encapsulates my Immersive experience during a one month Internship at the District and Session court Surguja C hattisgarh, undertaken from 2nd June 2025 to 30th June 2025. As a Second-year law student at Guru Ghasidas Vishwavidyalaya, Bilaspur, Chhattisgarh, this internship provided a valuable opportunity to observe and participate in the practical applications of legal principles.

This diary chronicles my daily activities, interactions, and insights gained while working under the guidance of ADVOCATE MANOJ AMBAST, a seasoned legal professional. It delves into the diverse aspects of legal proceedings, client Interactions, and community-oriented initiatives that form the foundation of DISTRICT COURT commitment to justice. The narrative captures the transformation of theoretical knowledge into tangible skills as I engaged in tasks ranging from legal research, case analysis, and drafting documents. It offers reflections on the challenges encountered, the significance of teamwork within the legal framework, and the crucial role of empathy and communication in legal practice.

INDEX

INTRODUCTION TO THE PROJECT

The study of law is incomplete without an understanding of its practical application. Internships serve as an essential bridge between theoretical legal education and real- world practice, offering law students valuable insight into the workings of the legal system. As part of my academic curriculum and personal interest in litigation and courtroom procedures, I undertook a summer internship under the esteemed guidance of Advocate Mr. Sanjay Nigam at the District & Sessions Court, Surajpur, from 3rd June 2025 to 30th June 2025.

This internship provided me with first- hand experience in various aspects of the legal profession, including court proceedings, client interaction, legal drafting, and case file management. I had the opportunity to observe a wide range of civil and criminal cases and participate in legal research and documentation. The structured environment and mentorship offered during the internship helped me develop a deeper understanding of procedural and substantive law, the role of an advocate, and the ethical standards expected in the profession.

The objective of this report is to provide a comprehensive account of the knowledge, skills, and experiences gained during the internship period. It outlines my daily learnings, challenges faced, and the practical application of classroom concepts in real legal scenarios. This experience has not only enriched my academic perspective but also strengthened my resolve to pursue a career in law with integrity and diligence.

ABSTRACT

This internship report presents a comprehensive account of the four-week legal internship undertaken by Arti Kumari, a B A L L B. (IV Semester) student at the School of Law, Guru Ghasidas Vishwavidyalaya, Bilaspur, under the supervision of Advocate Sujit Kumar Singh at the District and Civil Court, Muzaffarpur, Bihar. The report highlights both academic and experiential learning derived from exposure to criminal and civil litigation, with specific focus on the new procedural framework under the Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita (BNS) and Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita (BNSS). Through case analyses, client interactions, and courtroom observations, the internship facilitated a deeper understanding of judicial procedure, legal drafting, and evidentiary principles. It also emphasized professional ethics, client confidentiality, and the application of statutory interpretation in practical scenarios. The report documents engagement in tasks such as drafting bail applications, analysing charge sheets, assisting in trial preparations, and conducting research on property fraud and juvenile justice. Conclusively, the internship bridged the gap between theoretical study and real-world advocacy, fostering critical skills in legal reasoning, procedural compliance, and ethical practice within the Indian judicial system.

ABSTRACT

This report provides a comprehensive overview of the legal internship experience undertaken under the guidance of Adv. Santosh Sharma, a renowned district court, Bhind. I gained comprehensive exposure to various facets of legal practice. This report encapsulates my experiences and the skills I developed throughout the internship. The internship aimed to provide practical exposure to the day-to-day functioning of the legal system, focusing on litigation and legal research. During the internship, various aspects of legal practice were observed, including court proceedings, client consultations, drafting of petitions, and case analysis. The experience enhanced knowledge of procedural laws, civil and criminal litigation, and the nuances of practicing law in a high court setting. Additionally, this report discusses the key skills gained during the internship, such as legal writing, argument preparation, and effective client communication. The mentorship of Adv. Santosh Sharma was instrumental in honing both theoretical and practical legal expertise, the exposure to diverse legal tasks and real-world scenarios, providing valuable insights into the functioning of the legal profession in Bhind.

ABSTRACT

This report consists of the duties and obligations I performed at OFFICE OF MRS. REENA VERMA, ADVOCATE CIVIL COURT HAZARIBAGH. The tasks included attending court and mediation sessions, drafting legal documents, and providing legal opinions. The report highlights the methods used to accomplish these duties through personal research and consultation with supervisors. It also discusses institutional and personal challenges such as client identification, limited practical exposure, and high living costs. Despite these challenges, the internship offered valuable practical experience, enhanced my understanding of the legal system, and provided clear direction for my future in the legal profession.

The report recommends that law firms provide interns with structured tasks and that universities offer pre-internship training to improve readiness for professional work.

Additionally, the law school should emphasize the internship program to enable the students acquire practical knowledge and skills to enhance the students' wide and deeper understanding of the law. In conclusion I consider the internship program an eye-opening activity that has clearly set out my path in regards to the legal profession.

ABSTRACT

The summer internship at the District Legal Services Authority (DLSA), Munger, Bihar provided a comprehensive understanding of the functioning of the legal aid system and its role in ensuring access to justice for all. The internship focused on observing and participating in various legal aid activities, including Lok Adalats, awareness programs, client counseling, and case documentation.

During the internship, I gained practical exposure to how DLSA operates under the guidance of the Legal Services Authorities Act, 1987, promoting legal literacy and providing free legal assistance to the underprivileged sections of society. I also learned about the coordination between legal aid lawyers, panel advocates, and para-legal volunteers in facilitating speedy and affordable justice. The experience enhanced my understanding of the grassroots level justice delivery system, the significance of alternative dispute resolution mechanisms, and the importance of legal awareness in rural areas. Overall, the internship at DLSA Munger was a valuable learning experience with practical knowledge and logical thinking.

After completion of my 4th semester, as a law student I was required to utilize my holidays by doing internship under either an advocate, law firm or in an NGO. So, I chose and applied under a Senior Advocate Mr. Nitin Kumar Agrawal, District & Session Court and High Court Bilaspur (C.G.). Who is a good lawyer of Criminal Matters, Civil Matters and Revenue Matters.

He is a very diligent person and has good knowledge of his subject, his arguments are always accurate and to the point.

So you will now be seeing my report and what all learnt there in a month.

ABSTRACT

This Internship Report encapsulates my immersive experience during a one-month internship at the Hon'ble High Court of Chhattisgarh. Undertaken from June 11, 2025 to July 2, 2025. As a second-year law student at Guru Ghasidas Vishwavidyalaya, Bilaspur, Chhattisgarh, this internship provides a completely different vision of legal proceeding of High Court . I got the opportunity to observe proceeding very closely and learn about different types of cases.

This report chronicles my daily observation, activity and learning gained while doing this internship. It delves with the diverse aspect of legal proceeding practiced in court, delivery of judgement and commitment of court to give justice. This narrative captures the transformation of the theoretical knowledge to tangible skills as I observed how petition is made and how it is filed to court to proceed the case.

The use of Article 226 .

Throughout this report, my observation and reflections are interwoven with relevant legal theories and concepts learned in the classroom. This synthesis of academic knowledge with practical experiences underscores the holistic approach necessary for a successful legal career.

INTRODUCTION

During my internship at the District and Sessions Court, Surguja, Chhattisgarh, I aimed to develop core legal skills such as legal research, drafting, and courtroom observation. I got the opportunity to read through case files, assist in preparing brief notes, and observe how legal arguments are structured and presented in a court of law. Attending daily hearings helped me gain a clearer understanding of the procedural flow in both civil and criminal cases. It also helped improve my ability to interpret legal documents, analyze arguments, and understand how lawyers interact with clients and judges. One of my goals was to enhance my understanding of criminal law and procedural laws, including the Code of Criminal Procedure (CrPC), the Indian Penal Code (IPC), and the Indian Evidence Act. Observing real-life cases allowed me to see how these laws are applied in practice. I also familiarized myself with legal terminology, the structure of arguments, and the judicial decision-making process. This experience deepened my conceptual clarity in areas that are often abstract in classroom learning. This internship provided me valuable exposure to the working environment of a trial court. I observed the day-to-day functioning of the court, including how cases are listed, how judges manage court proceedings, and how advocates conduct themselves professionally. I interacted with legal professionals such as practicing advocates, junior lawyers, court clerks, and also had informal discussions about the challenges they face in the field.

This exposure gave me a realistic view of the legal system and helped me understand the roles and responsibilities of different stakeholders. Professional Objectives. My long-term goal is to pursue a career in litigation, and this internship aligned well with that objective. Being part of an active court environment helped me understand the role of a litigation lawyer beyond textbooks. By observing bail hearings, cross-examinations, and final arguments, I gained firsthand experience of the litigation process. These insights confirmed my interest in litigation and strengthened my motivation to pursue it further. The internship enabled me to build connections with legal professionals, including senior advocates, court staff, and fellow interns. Through daily interactions and informal conversations, I learned about their career journeys, work challenges, and gained practical tips for improving my legal approach. These connections are valuable for mentorship, guidance, and future opportunities in the legal field. This experience helped me apply the theoretical knowledge gained during my B.A. LL.B studies to real-world legal scenarios. I was able to connect legal principles, doctrines, and procedural rules to the actual functioning of courts. Watching live application of laws in courtroom settings helped me understand how legal reasoning is used to resolve disputes and deliver justice. It also gave me insight into how judgments are structured and how judicial discretion is exercised.

ABSTRACT

This report presents a detailed account of my legal internship at the High Court of Chhattisgarh, Bilaspur, conducted from 10th June to 30th June 2025 under the guidance of Mr. Anurag Jha, Senior Advocate. The internship aimed to bridge the gap between academic learning and the practical functioning of the judiciary. It provided firsthand exposure to the procedural and substantive aspects of law through observation, research, and participation in real cases.

During the internship, I was engaged in various legal tasks such as preparing case briefs, drafting petitions, conducting legal research, and attending courtroom proceedings across civil, criminal, and constitutional matters. I gained valuable insights into court decorum, filing procedures, client interactions, and the importance of precision in legal drafting. The experience also helped me develop essential skills in analytical reasoning, documentation, and professional communication.

In addition to hands-on casework, I assisted in research related to critical legal provisions, including Sections 365, 420, 467, and 468 of the Indian Penal Code, as well as matters under the Code of Criminal Procedure and writ jurisdiction under Article 226 of the Constitution. Observing senior advocates and judges in action enhanced my understanding of advocacy, ethics, and courtroom strategies.

Overall, this internship was a transformative learning experience that deepened my appreciation for the legal profession and strengthened my commitment to pursuing a career in litigation. It fostered both personal and professional growth by enhancing my legal acumen, discipline, and ethical awareness.

ABSTRACT

This report is submitted based on my internship under the guidance of Mr. Pankaj Khedkar, an experienced Advocate at the District and Session Court in Bilaspur, Chhattisgarh, spanning from 2nd June 2025 to 30th June 2025. During this period, I had the privilege of gaining hands-on experience in various facets of legal practice.

My responsibilities were diverse and encompassed assisting in case research, drafting legal documents, and actively participating in court proceedings. I had the opportunity to observe and engage in client consultations, which deepened my understanding of the intricate dynamics between clients and their legal representatives.

The internship offered invaluable practical insights into the functioning of the judicial system, including the procedural intricacies involved in courtroom operations. I gained firsthand experience in applying legal theories to real-world scenarios, enhancing my ability to analyse and interpret legal issues effectively.

Moreover, this experience significantly contributed to the development of essential skills such as legal writing, critical analysis, and effective communication. Engaging in drafting legal documents sharpened my attention to detail, while participating in court proceedings improved my ability to navigate and understand legal arguments and procedures.

Overall, this internship played a pivotal role in bridging the gap between theoretical knowledge acquired through academic study and its practical application in the legal profession. It has been instrumental in my professional growth, providing me with a solid foundation and practical insights that will guide my future endeavours in the legal field.
