

“Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) BETWEEN GGV & Institute of Nutrigenetics & Nutrigenomics Research, Mohali”

Date: 22.11.2024

Venue: UTD A WING R-26

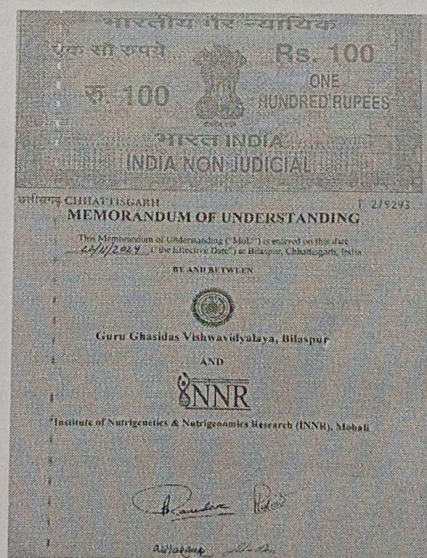

Organized by: Department of Anthropology & Tribal Development

Brief report of the event mentioning resource person(s) name, affiliation, total number of participants:

On November 22, 2024, the Department of Anthropology & Tribal Development at Guru Ghasidas Vishwavidyalaya and the Institute of Nutrigenetics & Nutrigenomics Research in Mohali signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU). This formal agreement establishes a partnership to advance interdisciplinary research and to create structured internship opportunities for students in Anthropology and Life Sciences. The collaboration emphasizes integrating anthropological perspectives with cutting-edge nutrigenetics and nutrigenomics techniques to study how culture, diet, and genetic variation interact to shape health outcomes. The MoU aims to:

- Promote collaborative, ethically grounded research that combines social and biological approaches.
- Provide hands-on training for students through internships, workshops, and supervised laboratory experience.
- Develop methodologies that respect tribal knowledge systems while applying novel molecular and computational techniques.
- Foster capacity building in both partner institutions by sharing expertise, equipment access, and joint supervision of student projects.
